Dear parents and carers,

Re: School Values Re-Launch

I am excited to announce that we are undertaking a re-launch of Furze Field's school values this term. We know that Furze Field is a school that nurtures, cares, and has high aspirations for pupils, however we want to make it clearer to all our community exactly what Furze Field's core values are.

We have set ourselves a task this term to choose five key words that truly represent what our school is all about. These five words will be woven throughout the fabric of everything we do in school and will set the standard by which we all learn, work and interact with each other every day.

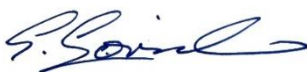

We have already held an assembly where the pupils have had a chance to think about some of the words that they might choose to represent our school values and there will be sessions held in class for pupils to give their input. School Council will also be involved in this important task.

The next step of our project is to ask for input from parents and carers. You play a huge part in the success of our school and your views are extremely important to us. I would be grateful therefore if you would complete this short Microsoft form which should take no more than a couple of minutes to complete. <https://forms.office.com/r/7dVjJ4hDpE>

Once we have taken the views of our pupils, parents, staff and Governing body, we will be ready to decide what our new school values will be.

I look forward to receiving your input on this exciting new project and to working with you on other school initiatives in the future.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Govinden
